

Matthew Turner

Recruitment Consultant

About me

My focus is 360 recruitment regarding more managerial positions around projects and products within technology. I love my little end of the market. I find BA's, Project and Product guys to be eloquent, open, intelligent and speak with passion about their work, experience and ambitions...it's inspiring stuff! The roles I work are for agile, dynamic, innovative tech startups across Europe, the US and, more recently, Asia.

When I look to pair candidates with these exciting roles, I want to ensure I thoroughly get under the skin of their experiences, skills, ambitions and drivers. When I speak with my clients, I need to feel like I'm an extension of the company and understand what makes them such a great company to work for! My role covers business development, candidate sourcing/screening and completing the interview process as smooth and as manageable as possible for all concerned. Concise communication across the board is an absolute priority.

Expertise

- IT Project Management
- Technical Business Analysis
- Agile Product Development/Management
- Digital Transformation
- Business Change

Clients

Testimonials

“Matthew helped me secure a role recently for which I am really grateful. He took the time to understand my background, experience, and skills to find a suitable matching role. He kept me updated regularly and pro-actively throughout the selection process as well as offered guidance and constructive feedback after the interview rounds. ”