

Sophie Rogers

Recruitment Consultant

About me

I'm Sophie, a specialist Tech recruiter with a focus on the Nordic and UK markets.

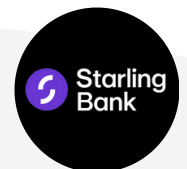

I love connecting talented individuals with their ideal role while also helping companies build strong teams to drive innovation and success. I believe that excellent communication is vital for understanding the needs of both candidates and clients, and this is an area where I excel.

I am proactive in meeting expectations and recognising urgency, but I always ensure that quality is never compromised. Finding the right candidate can complete a team and I am dedicated to finding the perfect match.
